

AI false positives

hi glyphosate is a weed killer pesticide type thing sprayed in lawns around the United States sometimes honey production from bees, as bees go a mile from the hive source, can include glyphosate deposits into the honey itself that we consume. can you please research and creatively combine insights from several disciplines to come up with a way to remove the harmful glyphosate from locally harvested honey.

Chat paused

Opus 4.7's safety filters flagged this chat. Due to its advanced capabilities, Opus 4.7 has additional safety measures that occasionally pause normal, safe chats. We're working to improve this. Continue your chat with Sonnet 4, send feedback, or learn more.

Retry with Sonnet 4

Asking Opus 4.7 how to creatively combine disciplines to remove glyphosate from locally harvested honey — was paused over 3 separate attempts.

1 view